INTRODUCTION

1. O, what is so charm-ing, O, what is so gay, In the even-ing or bright early dawn,
2. She nev er be fore looked so pret-ty and gay, Or dis-played so much beau-ty and grace,
3. Come boys, and see the girls choose their part-ners for play, The moon will lend us her light,

As a nice lit-tle game of be-witch-ing cro-quet, With the girl that you love on the lawn?
As when, with her neat lit-tle foot, she'd cro-quet, Then witchingly look-ed in my face
There is sport ev'ry time with the moon light cro-quet, Then hur-rah for an-oth-er to-night.

2. How nim - bly her ball rolls o - ver the ground, And swift - ly her
